Many Persons Now Believe
the Concrete Levee Wall
Will Stand Any Strain

WATER MAY OVERFLOW

Confident Workers Declare That if Trouble Does Come it Will be an Overflow and Not a Break

WOMEN AND CHILDREN SAFE

CAIRO, ILL., APRIL 3.—Rain falling in a steady downpour and the rough flood waters washing against the sacks of sand piled on the concrete levee wall, changed conditions materially here tonight. Although the weather change would naturally carry with it a negative outlook for the welfare of the city, a confidence seems to have sprung up among the citizens who have worked hardest to prevent Cairo's destruction that appeared to offset it. Day after day the residents have watched the flood water climb on the gauge measured by tenths of a foot until tonight at dark it stood slightly above 54.6. The old record of 54.95 has been so far passed that there is all sorts of speculation as to what new one will be established. In spite of the climbing water there would be found many persons to say who now believe the levee will stand any strain and if trouble does come it will be an overflow and not a break. Only a few inches separate the face of the water and the top of the government gauge which is 56 feet. Two inches higher than this would bring the water to the top of the concrete wall, with only sand sacks to keep it back from the city's business district.

Sand Sacks Hold Flood
Above Eighteenth street where the wall stops sand sacks are holding back the flood now and although there is a great seepage the volume of water in the river has thus far failed to force them.
Ensign Melvin, in charge of the district boat service between Cairo and Mound City, Ill., reported tonight that the levee was still holding at the latter place, but that the Ohio's waters had backed into Cache River to alarming height and that the levee back of the town appeared pitifully weak. Most of the six hundred persons there are now encamped in the court house including two companies of militiamen in command of Major Klausner, of the Seventh Regiment, I. N. G.
Soldiers were in charge of the work of strengthening the levees with all the material at their command. There is not a great supply of sand sacks or lumber available there, it is said, but what is there is being put to the best possible purpose.

All women and children have either left town voluntarily or have been compelled to do so. With facilities for rescue in sight it is not believed that loss of life would follow inundation of the buildings. Investigation in the poorer quarters of Cairo, inhabited principally by negroes, revealed the fact there are a great many more women and children than were believed to have remained in the buildings. Most of them have cabin homes, which are among the oldest in the city. They represent with their contents all the earthly belongings of their owners. The houses have been occupied by the negroes since slavery came to an end, and they are just beginning to realize that the city is in the greatest danger of destruction that it has ever been.

In many cases the families depend solely on the food which daily is dealt out to them at commissary headquarters. With the rising water continuing they are sure the destruction of their homes is in sight, and the conditions in the territory are pitiful among those who have remained because they were unable to purchase tickets out of the city or to support themselves if they did get out.

Commander McMunn, of the naval reserves heard tonight from Ensign Peiper, who yesterday was sent to O'Brien's Landing, Mo., with ten men for rescue work, and for whom some anxiety was felt. The Ensign reported that the expedition had been busily engaged in carrying people to places of safety from various points in flooded Missouri territory and that the boat would not return here probably until tomorrow. It was said that the night would be spent at Commerce, Mo., where there might be more rescue work to perform before morning.

Fifty soldiers who had been on duty at Villa Ridge, Ill., were brought to Cairo tonight on boats in charge of naval reserves who were compelled to pick their way along house tops in the submerged district. Although the expedition occupied the greater part of the day it was carried out successfully and without accident.

MISSOURI TORNADO SWEEPS COUNTRYSIDE

WIND STORM CAUSES ONE DEATH AND MUCH DAMAGE AT STURGEON

Practically All the Inhabitants of Sturgeon Sought Refuge and Safety in Cyclone Cellars—Most of Damage Was Done in Country
On Outskirts of Town.

STURGEON, MO., APRIL 3.—William Mathies, 87 years old, a retired farmer, was killed, his wife, Mary, and his daughter, Ruth, 24 years old were probably fatally injured, twenty-five persons were less seriously hurt and a score of residences were demolished when a tornado passed within a half mile of Sturgeon this afternoon. The tornado formed southwest of Sturgeon and traveled northeast.

As the clouds became threatening during the afternoon the Sturgeon school was dismissed, and practically all the townspeople sought refuge in cyclone cellars. The tornado struck, Larrabee, Mo., across the line in Audrain county, and there demolished the water tank of the Chicago & Alton railway, hurled several box cars off the track, and tore down telegraph and telephone poles.

Wabash passenger train No. 2 from Kansas City to St. Louis ran into telegraph poles blown across the track east of Sturgeon, but no one was injured.

News of the damage wrought by the storm was brought to Sturgeon and surrounding towns by farmers. No damage was done in Sturgeon the tornado sweeping within half a mile of this place into the country where most of the damage was done. A great hail storm followed.

Mathies and his family lived seven miles southwest. They were a dinner when the tornado struck their home, demolishing it and burying them under a portion of the wreckage.

The home of Charles W. Robinson, a farmer, one of the best residences in the district was destroyed, but the Robinson family saved their lives by rushing to a cyclone cellar.

Fifty barns and numerous small buildings were blown down.

HUERTA IS REPORTED TO HAVE AGREED TO NAMING OF LASCURAIN
Will Attempt to Satisfy All Factions in Mexico Through the Naming of Pedro Lascurain as Provisional President of the Republic.

El Paso, Texas, April 3.—To satisfy all factions in the Mexican media General Huerta has agreed to the naming of Pedro Lascurain as provisional president according to advice received here today directly from the national capital Lascurain would serve out the uncompleted term of the late President Madero.

As minister of exterior relations in Madero's former cabinet, Lascurain is entitled to serve as next in line in view of the deaths of Madero and Vice-president Suarez. The Huerta cabinet would be retained by the compromise.

This arrangement it is said has been offered to the constitutionalists now fighting the Huerta government in northern Mexico.

It is declared that Governor Carranza has agreed and that the Sonora insurrectionists will fall in line. The decision of the president provisional president is said to have been occasioned by the recent uprising of Zapata in the south, which places the Huerta forces between two fires.

Mexican military men here estimate that Huerta has not more than 14,000 troops in all Mexico, with even less than Porfirio Diaz possessed in combating the Madero revolution. Madero, on taking office, began recruiting volunteer troops with the ex-insurrecto corps as a basis. In the meantime the regular army was not recruited to normal strength. The desertion to the opposing side of the majority of the volunteer groups has left the actual government forces far below par.

MISS PANKHURST GIVEN THREE YEARS BUT WILL NOT SERVE TIME

Suffragette is Sentenced to Three Years Penal Servitude—Will Undoubtedly Be Released Under "Cat and Mouse Bill."

London, April 3.—Miss Emilie Pankhurst, the leaders of the militant suffragettes was to day found guilty and sentenced to three years penal servitude at the 1d Bailey Sessions on the charge of indicting persons to commit damage. Immediately the sentence of three years fell from the judge's lips the women in the court room broke out in a chorus of "shame" and "outrage!"

There is no possibility of Miss Pankhurst serving her sentence of three years. The suffragette leader will undoubtedly be released under home Secretary McKenna's new bill, permitting ticket of leave which the suffragette have christened "the cat and mouse bill."

JUDGE GROSSCUP
AMONG THE WINNERS.
Coronado, Calif., April 3.—Peter S. Grosscup, former judge of the United States court of appeals, Chicago, and Miss Maude Fitch of Salt Lake city, have been announced winners of the mixed foursome in the Coronado golf tournament. Both winners have been presented with silver loving cups.

ENTIRE CITY DESTROYED?

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., APRIL 3.—With all reports received by the governor within the past twenty-four hours, increasing the total of the homeless residents of southern Illinois who have been driven from their homes by the floods and the certainty that the state will be called upon to care for at least 10,000 refugees until such a time as the waters recede, Governor Dunne tonight made a public statement suggesting that charitably inclined people turn their attention to their own state, many citizens of which are in need of assistance. The following statement was issued from the executive office after letters had been received from Peoria, Evanston and other Illinois cities, asking for information regarding the condition of those who live in the flood districts.

Governor Dunne's Statement.
To the Public: "Upon conference with the adjutant general I can state conservatively that at least ten thousand people in this state are suffering from the need of provisions and shelter resulting from the floods in the southern part of the state. I therefore respectfully suggest to all organizations and public officials now collecting money in this state as the result of the calls heretofore made for relief from the governors of other states and from my own proclamation heretofore issued in response to such calls, that all moneys hereafter collected be collected upon the distinct understanding that they shall be used for the relief of the citizens of Illinois."

"As governor of this state without any specific appropriation therefor, I have morally obligated the state already for a large amount of money for the purchase of sacks to be filled with sand for the purpose of protecting the flooded districts and am hourly in receipt of calls for assistance throughout the state. All moneys hereafter forwarded to me will be used exclusively for the assistance of suffering people in the state of Illinois."

$300,000 Must go to Ohio.
The Association of Commerce, which through its secretary, Francis T. Simmons, offered "any kind of assistance" a few days ago, now writes Governor Dunne that the $300,000 it has collected for the Ohio flood sufferers must all be expended in that state. The letter said, however, that members of the association will use the influence with the legislature to secure the passage of an appropriation bill to meet the situation in this state.

Illinois now has a total of 1,675 tents housing victims of the flood in various parts of the state. There is still nearly 2,000 tents on hand, enough to meet any possible emergency.

Adjutant General Dickson plans to leave Springfield tomorrow night for East St. Louis, where he will board the steamer Illinois and proceed to Cairo. The Illinois will be loaded with a cargo of tents and food and will be used as a base of supplies in southern Illinois until conditions improve. The work of extending relief to the flood sufferers will be under the supervision of General Dickson, working in conjunction with United States army officers now at Cairo.

Captain Charles N. Neal, quartermaster of the Fifth regiment, with a detail of six men, left Springfield tonight to load the Illinois with tents and provisions.

Many Calls For Assistance.
Numerous calls for assistance were received at the governor's office today. A message from New Haven on the Wabash river stated three hundred families there were without food or shelter and that three-fourths of the town was under water.

"Send tents and supplies via Evansville, Ind., from there by boat," the message stated.

From Mayor Eschelman, of Pulaski, came an appeal for rations for one hundred refugees. One hundred tents to shelter victims of the flood were asked for by Mayor J. B. Blackburn, of Harrisburg.

The United States steamer General Kings was today sent to Brookport with rations and other supplies in response to a message from City Attorney Lackman that the city would be submerged within a few hours, rendering 2,000 people homeless.

MAY FASTEN GUILT ON YOUNG DEFENDENT

EVIDENCE INTRODUCED HURTS DE-FENSE IN PFANSCHMIDT TRIAL

New Witness Produced By State
Swears He Saw Ray's Buggy and Horses at 2:15 Saturday Morning
—Fiancee Remains Loyal to Her Lover.

QUINCY, ILL., APRIL 3.—The afternoon the circuit court was filled with evidence, some of it of a sensational nature, tending to fasten the guilt of the quadruple murder on Ray Pfanschmidt, the young defendant. Heretofore no person had been found who was able to give any evidence as to Ray Pfanschmidt's whereabouts after 10:30 on the Friday evening of the crime. It is theory of the state that Ray Pfanschmidt leaving the home of his fiancée, Miss Esther Reeder at 10:30 that night, went down to the Pfanschmidt farm and there committed the crime. No person had been found, however, who could give any trace of Ray's actual whereabouts. His story has been that from the home of Miss Reeder he came directly to Quincy and then went to his tent at the engineering camp north of the city.

This afternoon the state produced Archie Pape, a young man of Quincy whose story has just become known. He testified positively that he saw Ray Pfanschmidt's buggy and horses at 2:15 Saturday morning driving rapidly on Twelfth street toward his camp. Willis Seehorn, Ray's companion in the tent, swore that he awoke at 1:30 that morning and Ray was not yet in his bed. Miss Margaret Spindler, a young lady school teacher, testified that she saw a team and a buggy going in the direction of the Pfanschmidt farm at about 10:30 on the Friday night in question, she being then on her way to Quincy where she resides. Ray's team can be easily distinguished, being a team of bald faced sorrel ponies and the buggy being a peculiar underbent vehicle.

Walter Dingsen, a farmer of Melrose township, testified that on Saturday night at about 11:30 the night, it is alleged Ray went back to the Pfanschmidt farm and set the house on fire, he passed Ray Pfanschmidt's buggy going in the direction of the Pfanschmidt farm.

Miss Esther Reeder, the fiancée of Ray Pfanschmidt, was a witness this morning but professed ignorance of any conversation with Ray in regard to the discovery of the fire. Her story added but little weight to the state's case. To questions in regard to her conversation with Ray on that day she answered, "I do not remember." She said however, identifying the clothes of Ray Pfanschmidt on the night he called on her as being, in her belief, the same clothes that she saw in the court house and which were taken from the vault near Ray's camp. She stated positively that she is still engaged to marry Ray Pfanschmidt.

CHARLES A. BARNES MAY BE APPOINTED DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Jacksonville May May Be Chosen
Successor to William A. Northcott
Through Influence of Secretary of State.

Springfield, Ill., April 3.—Organizing Democrats who are backing Ernest Hoover, treasurer of the Democratic state central committee for internal revenue collector at Springfield, put on their war paint tonight and receipt of information from Washington that John L. Pickering, one of the oldest and best known newspaper correspondents in the state is to be appointed to the place, if the selection has not been made already. Friends of Hoover alleged that Secretary of State Bryan is responsible for Pickering's selection. It is also asserted Bryan's influence will secure the appointment, probably with the consent of Congressman H. T. Rainey, of Charles A. Barnes as district attorney here to succeed Wm. A. Northcott. The appointment of Mr. Barnes, who is a close political friend of M. F. Dunlap of Jacksonville, means the defeat of John A. Hogan, of Taylorville, another candidate with the backing and support of the state central committee.

The house today adopted Senator Hurburg's joint resolution providing a committee of eight members to inquire into the advisability of consolidating in the interest of economy and efficiency, state boards, bureaus and commissions which have been created by the general assembly.

A bill was introduced in the senate creating a state board of examiners of miners and requiring all coal miners to pass an examination before beginning work, eliminating provisions in the present law for an interpreter and requiring all examination questions be answered in the English language.

Superintendent of Dunning.
Dr. George Leinenger of Chicago was today appointed superintendent of the state hospital at Dunning by the state board of administration on the recommendation of Governor Dunne.

Auditor of Public Accounts Brady issued a permit today to Ira D. Buck, C. S. Goodwin, and Frank D. Follansbee to organize the Bankers' Bank of America at Chicago, with a capital stock of $3,000,000.

WILSON CONFERS WITH TARIFF LEADERS

President Hopes to Reach an Agreement on New Tariff Revision Bill

WORKING FOR HARMONY

Chief Executive Will Endeavor to Bring Senate, House and
His Own Views Into Harmony

MUST SMOOTH OVER DISPUTES

WASHINGTON, APRIL 3.—The completion of the new tariff revision bill, the character of the duty to be levied upon sugar, and the extent to which President Wilson will give the support of the administration to the completed measure depended tonight upon the success that might attend efforts of the president to reach an agreement with senate tariff leaders.

The tariff situation shifted to the senate to day with the prospect of much work of the chief executive to smooth over disputed points and to bring the senate, the house and his own views into harmony before the bill is brought out to the gaze of the public. Senators Simmons, Stone and Hoke Smith, members of the finance committee had a long conference with President Wilson this evening. At its conclusion, Senator Simmons, chairman of the committee said the conference had been in every way satisfactory to the senate members. A canvass of the senate has been undertaken to determine just how far the Democrats members of that body will go in support of the policies laid down by the president. The decision to put raw wool on the free list and the threat of free sugar have stirred up the Democratic forces of the senate to such an extent that members of the finance committee told the president tonight some important changes would have to be made in the present draft of the bill if it is to meet with a cordial reception when it reaches the senate. The president also saw Senator Hughes of New Jersey, another member of the finance committee and a radical revisionist, and Senator John W. Kern the Democratic leader of the senate.

To day's developments included the practical completion of the bill by the house ways and means committee along the lines agreed to with the president.

Bill Must Be Revised.
The senate leaders have made it clear that it would be impossible to pass a bill carrying both free wool and free sugar. It was reported here tonight that sugar duty would be prepared at a compromise of 1 cent a pound, possibly with a provision that it should be entirely abolished in three years; that there should be a gradual reduction of 25 per cent a year from the existing duty, until it had disappeared.

The senate leaders did not come to any definite agreement with the president. The results of their conference will be laid before the full Democratic membership of the finance committee at a meeting tomorrow. The determination of the committee then as to disputed questions will guide Senator Simmons in future conference with the president and with Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee.

The investigation which has brought out strong opposition to the reductions proposed by the house and sanctioned by the president in many important schedules. It is understood that the senate leaders insist many of these must be changed if the new bill is to have their support.

President Wilson made it known to day to visitors that he had settled in his own mind whether there should be one general bill or a series of schedule bills. This feature is considered of high importance by the president and prominent Democrats in the senate. The house leaders are prepared to pass the entire tariff revision in a single bill but the attitude of the president will depend upon the rates that are finally agreed to upon sugar and upon certain products still open to debate.

Several members of the senate finance committee insist they will not accept a general bill but will demand the opportunity to vote upon each schedule separately. A proposal is now under advisement between the president and the senate and house leaders to have at least the wool and sugar schedules put into separate bills.

President Wilson is hopeful of securing an understanding with both senate and the house, so that there may be no radical differences of opinion when Representative Underwood finally presents the bill to the house. The sugar schedule remained the only stumbling block when the house ways and means committee adjourned late to day after considering that and the income tax since early morning. Everything was left to the president as to the sugar

BREAKS DOWN UNDER STRAIN OF TESTIFYING

OLSON SOBS AS HE TELLS OF EVENTS
LEADING TO DARLING'S MURDER

On Witness Stand Relations Between
Mrs. Olson and Darling Were Wrung From the Professor—Describes Events on Night of Shooting.

ST. PAUL, MINN., APRIL 3.—The apparent unconcern exhibited by Prof. Oscar Olson, formerly of the University of Minnesota, since his arrest for the murder of Clyde N. Darling, was broken under the strain of the witness stand this evening and he sobbed audibly as the relations between Mrs. Olson and Darling were wrung from him.

The court room was crowded to overflowing and many wept with the defendant, who presented the picture of a broken-spirited man. Mrs. Olson buried her face in her hands and wept throughout her husband's testimony. Prof. Olson will resume his story tomorrow.

"My wife confessed to me that there had been illicit relations between herself and Darling many times, and I warned him to keep away from my home," Olson testified. "He continued to come, despite the warning, and finally succeeded in tearing down the happiness of the home which took me so many years to build."

"The night of the shooting I was alone," continued the witness. "I heard a noise about the kitchen to investigate. I saw a man standing inside the door, and I recognized Darling."

"Oh, its you, damn you," he said, and took a step towards me. I had my revolver and fired twice in rapid succession. A second later I saw the wrecker of my home throw his arms into the air and fall limply to the floor."

Prof. Olson testified that he first learned of Mrs. Olson's relations with Darling, June 16, last.

"When I returned from my office my wife told me Darling had hugged and kissed her," Olson continued. "I saw Darling one day later in the presence of the man for whom he was working. When I accused him of insulting my wife he turned pale. Then he recovered himself and said:

"I admit it; it's all my fault."
"While in Clearbrook, Minn., November 12, last, I received a message from my wife urging me to return home immediately. She met me at the door and said:

"Oscar, do I look demented? That devilish laundryman is haunting me again. He has been here several times and I can't resist his overtures. Please help me and keep him from me."

Olson repeated the details leading to the crime. Several times during his testimony his sobbing forced an interruption.

SUBPOENA GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS

Must Appear Before Grand Jury Investigating Oleomargarine Fraud
Charges and Alleged Conspiracy.

Chicago, April 3.—Subpoenas were prepared today for government officials and employees of the bureau of internal revenue and department of agriculture summoning them to appear before the special grand jury investigating oleomargarine fraud charges and alleged conspiracy in compromising violations of the law.

Among those who will be called to testify are R. E. Cabel, commissioner of internal revenue, Dr. A. F. Melvin, chief of the bureau of animal industry, and Arthur B. Evans, chief chemist of the bureau of internal revenue.

The principal witness examined today by the grand jury was the chemist of the Louisville Cotton Oil company.

MUST PAY L. & N. FOR RIGHT OF WAY

Louisville, Ky., April 3.—A jury in the federal court here today returned a verdict fixing $500,000 as the amount that the Western Union Telegraph company should pay the Louisville & Nashville railroad for the privilege of keeping its poles, wires and other equipment along the railroad's right of way in Kentucky.

A contract between the railway and the telegraph company expired last August, and the telegraph company thereupon condemned a right of way along the railway's tracks, schedule, and it was here that his conference with the Democratic senators would make it possible for an agreement to be reached and for the bill to be introduced Monday.

Raw wool was finally agreed to by the committee to day. The fifteen per cent ad valorem advocated by Chairman Underwood being abandoned. The plan for the income tax also was agreed to by the ways and means committee the rates being left dependent somewhat upon the action to be taken relative to the sugar tariff. It was concluded to place a tax of one per cent on incomes of more than $4,000, graduating up to four per cent on incomes exceeding $100,000. It was agreed further to differentiate between individual and corporation taxes—the latter to be a flat tax to be determined when the exact amount of necessary revenue is ascertained when the sugar schedule is fixed.

Chairman Underwood said tonight that he hoped to introduce the entire bill in the house Monday, the Democratic caucus to take it up afterward.

CONDITIONS ALONG ILLINOIS SERIOUS

Levees at Meredosia,
Beardstown, and Naples
Break Thursday

MANY ARE HOMELESS

Business Section of Naples an Island—Town of Meredosia
Nearly Surrounded

COMPANY B. ON M'GHEE LEVEE

With levees broken at Naples, Meredosia and Beardstown, the flood situation in these districts is becoming hourly more serious, although there is no special danger of loss of life at any of the three places. The levee across the river from Meredosia and the one across from Beardstown are still holding out, although both are in dangerous condition and are not expected to stand much longer.

Residents of Naples were warned of the breaks in river levee immediately north of the business part of town and in the levee north of the city, at 5 o'clock Thursday morning by the ringing of bells and they hurried to places of safety, a large number seeking refuge in the brick business block on Front street, just on the river levee. The buildings there are three stories high and although the water last night was on a level with the sidewalks in front of these stores, they are thought to be comparatively safe. Fifteen or twenty families were driven from their homes on account of the levee break but there are still fully as many residences in the north part of the town that are on high ground and out of the water. In this section of the town twenty-five tents have been raised for the homeless residents and 2,000 rations which were ordered from the adjutant general at Springfield were expected to arrive last night.

Large Port of Naples Inundated.
A large portion of Naples is covered with water ranging in depth from one to six feet and the business portion is practically an island. The water will reach a depth of from two to four feet in the residences in the flood district. The people have moved the greater part of their furniture out and the houses will be badly damaged with the water.

The water which first started to run over the top of the levee in a short time had quite a large hole cut and although the current was quite strong, still it was not of sufficient strength to tear out the foundations of any of the houses. The Wabash tracks are covered with water ranging from six to eight inches, but it is not yet high enough to cause traffic to be abandoned. The trains are being moved slowly and men are stationed to watch the tracks, in order to stop trains in case of a washout. The Naples station, which in times of normal water conditions is closed at 8 o'clock at night, is being kept open.

Use Boats to Go to Stores.
In speaking of the Naples situation Thursday night, W. G. Pine, a real estate dealer on eight place, said that his residence was just one block outside of the flood district and everything possible was being done to relieve the homeless. He also reported that a small volume of business was transacted Thursday and that he did not think that much outside aid would be needed. Mr. Pine stated that people in the residence district of the town are compelled to use boats to get to the business part of the town.

Meredosia Levee Breaks.
At 8 o'clock Thursday morning the levee at Meredosia lake, about two miles north of the town, broke in two places, one of the gaps being one quarter of a mile wide. This break will let the water into a territory eight miles long and from one-half to one and one-half miles wide. Nearly all of the residences are on the edge of this lowland, sufficiently high to escape the water, and the people have moved from those that are in the flood belt. Members of the five families that reside on what is known as Meredosia Island, have moved to places of safety.

It will probably be some time before this district is filled with water flowing over the levee, unless other breaks occur, and then the depth will be from 1 1/2 to 10 feet. This will also allow the water to go around Meredosia and make that town practically an island until the water recedes. The most damage will be to farmers in delaying their crops and the damage to the wheat crop, which will in all probability be killed.

It is thought that the break in the Meredosia levee was all that saved the McChesney Levee and Drainage district's levee across the river. Up to noon Thursday the river had risen two inches, but after that time no

IN MEMORY OF PONY EXPRESS.

St. Joseph, Mo., April 3.—With interesting exercises conducted in the presence of a large crowd of spectators a handsome granite monument was unveiled here today to mark the site of the spot from which the first pony express rider started across the plains on April 3, 1860. The memorial was erected by the Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. D. N. McFarland of Columbia, state president of the society, presided over the unveiling exercises.

NOTICE.

Our work began April 1. By making your schedule the first time the assessor comes to see you, you can help to keep down the expense of the county. If you are called on the second time your schedule has cost twice as much as it ought to. Many men have to call on the third time in order to get a schedule. Make your schedule when the assessor comes.

POULTRY RAISERS HOLD BANQUET

MORGAN COUNTY ASSOCIATION
IN ENTHUSIASTIC GATHERING.

Poultry Exhibits at Nichols Park—
Chicken Raising From the Standpoint of Business and Recreation —Literary and Musical Features of Program.

The fourth annual banquet of the Morgan County Poultry association was held Thursday evening at Centenary church. The attendance was good and the interest shown seems to indicate that poultry culture is still an important interest with many people of Jacksonville. R. C. Reynolds, the president of the association, opened the evening program, introducing Judge F. E. Baldwin as toastmaster. Prof. J. H. Rayhill favored the company with two short but very interesting readings, after which Judge Baldwin called on D. T. Heimlich, one of the pioneer poultry raisers of the city.

Mr. Heimlich's Address.
Nichols park as a place of instruction as well as a place of beauty was the subject of the first speaker's address. He gave an account of the improvements at the park, mentioning the house for poultry erected there by the park board as an exhibiting place for the association, and the efforts of local fanciers in stocking it. The exhibit is practically completed by the donation of a trio of Japanese Phoenix fowls by Mrs. Josie Hairgrove which will be taken to the park next week. The association hopes some time to put an assortment of pigeons on exhibition. Mr. Heimlich spoke of the opportunities for instruction found in parks of other cities and said he thought Nichols park should not be behind in this line of work. Besides being of great interest to everyone such exhibits as the poultry association are making and hope to make will be of especial benefit to the young people, many of whom may be thus inspired to engage in this interesting and profitable avocation.

Profit and Pleasure.

The rewards of poultry raising from the double standpoint of money making and recreation was the subject of most of the following speakers. The humorous side of the subject was touched on by Horace H. Bancroft whose remarks were entitled "Raising or Buying." He also paid well deserved compliments to Mr. Heimlich whom he characterized as one who had done more than anyone else to promote the movement in Jacksonville.

He was followed by Mrs. J. G. Kelly, secretary of the poultry association of Greene county. In "The Pleasures of a Secretary" she told of the many delightful people she had met in her work and of some of the lessons learned. "Such work teaches one to keep sweet and keep everlastingly at it. Continued exertion will result in the raising of standards in any sort of work. I take great pleasure in doing all I can to raise the standard in poultry raising. I am often pleasantly surprised by the enthusiasm shown by people one would think would take no interest in such things. It does me good to see the interest shown by the boys in an occupation which keeps them away from mischief and helps make them useful citizens. Besides furnishing a pleasant and profitable avocation, poultry raising does much to make one considerate of the rights of others. There is in fact a sort of free-masonry among poultry people. A kind of community of interest drawing them together and making them like neighbors as it were. Morton E. Thomas of Carrollton followed with a few remarks about the Indian Runner duck. He complimented the association on its progress and on the excellence of their entertainment.

"Poultry raising is either the most delightful or the most awful experience a person can have," said Ralph I. Dunlap in speaking on "Poultry Raising and Business." "It all depends on one's point of view." He continued with some of his early experiences as a fancier of White Wyandottes.

He spoke of the advance made in scientific poultry culture shown by such things as the better prices paid for fancy birds, the greater demand for high quality eggs and the interest manifest in various poultry shows and conventions over the country. Although the raising of poultry is for something more than a healthful recreation, it is decidedly profitable for those who study it properly and go in to make it pay.

Dr. A. W. Foreman, of White Hall took up the standpoint of one who raised poultry for the pleasure he receives from it.

Born in 1840, and for 44 years a medical practitioner, he has turned to his poultry as one of his chief forms of diversion. Although never making a profit from it he considers himself well paid by the pleasure he derives from the breeding of fine birds. He has had experience with many varieties of chickens, having at different times been a fancier of Light Brahmas, Buff Cochins, Plymouth Rocks, Leghorns, Silver Langshans, Wyandottes, and Black Langshans.

The concluding speech was made by William E. Thomson, who also touched on the pleasurable side of poultry raising. In "Poultry Raising on a City Lot" he described the experience of many who raise chickens on a small scale, putting more into their poultry than they can get out of it is true, but having the satisfaction of a nominal supply of fresh eggs, and a pleasant avocation for the hours after business. One remarkable thing about the business he said was the necessity for a man to commence on a small scale and advance gradually.

Musical and Literary Features.
Besides his selections in opening the program, Prof. Rayhill delighted his hearers with a longer piece entitled: "Baptizing the Wrong Man." Charles A. Sheppard played the "Sextette from Lucia" on his "Mandola" mechanical piano player. A violin solo was played by James G. Camps, Jr., accompanied by Prof. Kritch.

The committee in charge was Mrs. Lambert Hastings, chairman; Mrs. J. W. Cleary, Mrs. Allen Franz, Mrs. Daisy Donovan, F. E. Baldwin, D. T. Heimlich and W. E. Thomson.

SENIOR HONORS ANNOUNCED AT I. C.

Miss Genevieve Clark and Warren Hall Honored by Faculty.

President Rammelkamp announced at the chapel exercises at Illinois college Thursday morning that the commencement speakers from the senior class would be Miss Genevieve Clark of this city and Warren Hall of Hamilton, Ill. The selection is made by a vote of the faculty, both scholarship and oratorical ability being taken into consideration. Miss Clark has been a student of merit through her entire course and is a candidate for honors in the Latin department. She is president of the senior class and a year ago at the Washington banquet portrayed her ability along oratorical lines. Mr. Hall represented the college last fall in the inter-collegiate oratorical contest, is president of Phi Alpha society, was president of the Y. M. C. A. last year and also took a leading part in the presentation of the Twelfth Night at the Opera House last year under the auspices of the Illinois college dramatic club.

Men who want the best Hat values can always be pleased at FRANK BYRNS' Hat Store.

The new schedule of wages, which was adopted for one year, became effective March 1.

"FAGGED-OUT" WOMEN

Will Find a Helpful Suggestion in This Letter.

Overworked, run down, "fagged out" women who feel as though they could hardly drag about, should profit by Miss Richter's experience. She says: "Last winter I was completely run down and felt fagged out all the time, was nervous and had indigestion."

"One of my friends advised me to take Vinol and it has done me great good. The tired, worn-out feeling is all gone and I am strong, vigorous and well. The stomach trouble soon disappeared and now I eat heartily and have perfect digestion. I wish every tired, weak, nervous woman could have Vinol, for I never spent any money in my life that did me so much good as that I spent for Vinol." Maries Richter, Detroit, Mich.

Thousands of women and men who were formerly weak and sickly owe their present rugged health to the wonderful strength-creating effects of Vinol. We guarantee Vinol to build you up and make you strong. If it does not we give back your money. Lee P. Allcott, druggist, Jacksonville, Ill.

P. S. For cough, scaly skin, try our Saxo Salve. We guarantee it.

The Perfect Baby Of The Future

A Simple Method That Has a Wonderful Influence upon The Future Infant.

Too much can not be said for a wonderful remedy, familiar to many women as Mother's Friend.

It is more eloquent in its action than all the health pulse ever laid down for the guidance of expectant mothers. It is an external application that spreads its influence upon all the cords, muscles, ligaments and tendons that nature calls into play; they expand gracefully without pain, without strain, and thus leave the child care-free and in joyful anticipation of the greatest of all womanly ambition.

Mother's Friend must therefore be considered as directly a most important influence upon the character and disposition of the future generation. It is a conceded fact that, with nausea, pain, nervousness and dread banished, there is stored up such an abundance of healthy energy as to bring into being the highest ideals of those who fondly theorize on the rules that insure the coming of the perfect baby.

Mother's Friend can be had at any druggist at $1.00 a bottle, and it is unquestionably one of those remedies that always has a place among the cherished few in the medicine cabinet.

Mother's Friend is prepared by the Bradford Equator Co., 159 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., after the formula of a noted family doctor.

Write them for a very instructive book to expectant mothers. See that your druggist will supply you with Mother's Friend.

There is a wealth of instruction and comfort to be derived in reading this little book. It is plainly written, just what every woman wants to know, and will be a splendid little text-book for guidance not only for yourself, but will make you helpful to others. And, in the meantime, do not fail to get a bottle of Mother's Friend at the drug store and thus fortify yourself against any and all pain and discomfort.

HAS WRITTEN VERSES FOR MISSOURI SONG.

Mrs. W. E. McKinney Pays Tribute To the "Peerless" State.

Mrs. W. E. McKinney of DeWitt, Iowa, formerly Miss Ida Scott Taylor of this city has recently written the words for a song "O Peerless Missouri" composed by Henry M. Butler. The music is published by the Thibault Piano Company and the title page shows portraits of some men who have helped make Missouri famous, among them Thomas H. Benton, Mark Twain, Pierre Laclede, Daniel Boone and Eugene Field. Mrs. McKinney's verses are as follows:

O, Peerless Missouri, the Pride of the west;
Queen of the Southland, the state I love best;
Bright Star of the Nation, all others above;
I pledge thee my loyal unchangeable love.

All hail thee Missouri, my own native state;
That Benton and Boone and Laclede have made great;
I sing to thy future, a joyous refrain,
The birth place of Field and the home land of Twain.

Fair land of the Ozarks, what treasures art there;
Wealth of the hills and the fruit of the vine;
In thee, O, Missouri, what splendors I see;
That make thee the state of all others for me.

Missouri, I love thee, thy people I claim;
My heart thrills with pride and I sing to thy name;
God bless thee forever, and make thee rejoice,
Dear land of my fathers, the home of my choice.

O Peerless Missouri
How precious thou art
Dear land of my fathers
The home of my heart.

WANT TO SELL BUILDING.

Old Mitchell Hotel on Illinois Avenue Offered For Sale, According to Rumor.

Arrangements are being made for the sale of the old Mitchell hotel building at the corner of East North and Illinois avenue, according to rumors received here. This property is the possession of the C. P. & St. L. Railroad company and it is understood that they wish to sell the building because they have lost quite a sum in repairing the structure after fires.

For years the building has been known as the Mitchell hotel and recently J. N. Bailey conducted a hotel there. Some years ago the C. P. & St. L. company purchased the property, and since the purchase there have been many guesses as to what use the company intended to do with it, but no definite information has been given as to that.

SPEAKER FOR COMMENCEMENT

PROF. H. W. SHYROCK OF CARBONDALE TO MAKE ADDRESS

Will Talk at High School Graduating Exercises on "Making A Living"—Honor Pupils of Senior Class Announced—Other J. H. S. Notes.

Principal W. A. Gore of the High School has announced that Prof. H. W. Shyrock of Carbondale will be commencement speaker at the graduating exercises to be held Thursday night May 29. Prof. Shyrock is a teacher of literature and has a national reputation as an educator. He comes highly recommended and is a brilliant and forceful speaker. His Subject will be "Making A Living."

Honor Pupils Named.

According to a vote of the students, which was sanctioned by the Board of Education, there will be no speakers from the senior class on commencement night. Therefore, the students who stood highest in scholarship were awarded this honor. The ranking of the students however, continues just the same and Principal Gore has already announced the honor pupils for the senior class. William Kinner receives the highest mark for the four year course with an average of 92.3. The six students standing the highest follow: William Kinner, 92.3; Ezra Hurwitz, 91.6; Ruth Brittonham, 91.2; Alma Weikant, 91; Adelaide McCarty, 90.9; Myrtle Schell, 90.2. The highest average made by a student was 93.7, a mark attained by Harlow Brown. According to a ruling of the Board of Education, a student must have been in the high school all four years and this was not true with Mr. Brown who came here three years ago from Waverly.

Class Day Program.

It is the intention of the students to make more of Class Day this year. The honor pupils will be given a prominent place on the program and the exercises will be the best in the school for a number of years.

Conference About Meet.

Supt. O. H. Blossom of Pittsfield will be in the city Saturday to confer with Principal Gore, relative to the coming Western Illinois High School league meet, which will take place here May 2. In the years past it has been customary for the association to give medals, such as could be purchased on the market. If the present plans work out a special die will be secured and the medals will be cast from this. The matter of substituting a silver shield mounted on an oak board in preference to the usual banner, which has been awarded the winner of the contest, has been suggested. The banners wear out in a few years and the durability of the silver shield is a great argument in its favor.

Working on Declamations.

The young ladies who will compete for the honor of representing the local high school in the declamatory contest, in connection with the W. I. H. S. M. are busy at work and the tryout will be held about the middle of this month.

Little Doing in Athletics.

There is not much of a stir along athletic lines, the bad weather interfering with track work. As soon as conditions permit the boys intend to get down and do some hard work in preparation for the meet. There will be some strong competition this year, as both Pittsfield and Virginia are reported to have a number of fast men. The baseball team has had hard work in getting a schedule made out as a number of the high schools of the country are cutting out baseball and devoting the time to track and field athletics.

The Young Woman Graduate

Correctness in dress does not necessarily mean that a great expenditure must be involved in its production. Correctness is not a purchasable commodity, but is brought about by taking advantage of the best resources offered in the line of costuming. Graduation day marks an important epoch in a young woman's life, and the gown worn upon its celebration should be in keeping with the occasion. Harmon's Dry Goods Store, by virtue of the renown it has won as a dress goods center, is the logical place to come for the graduation outfit; and the pattern department, where the famous Pictorial Review patterns are sold, shows the latest authorized modes for fashioning the garment. These two departments, through the agency of a talented and helpful sales force, are the most pronounced aids contained in Jacksonville for obtaining correctness in the graduation gown.

BANKING SERVICE.

We talk about our banking service. We do so because we honestly believe we can render an unequalled and unexcelled banking service. Have you ever thought what real bank service is? It is not merely receiving your money and paying it out again on your check. No indeed.

Your banking service should first of all be absolutely safe and conservative. Look up this bank and see if it does not measure up in this respect.

Your banker should be your confidential business adviser and be able to give you the right advice at all times on business matters. He should keep his weather eye open at all times to your best interests. He should enjoy your confidence.

We try to keep the interests of our customers foremost in our thoughts. We know the banking and business experience of our officers enables them to furnish our customers an information and service bureau rarely found in a bank. We know that our organization is such that we can furnish our customers all banking accommodations at the lowest cost and we are doing it.

We honestly try to keep our depositors' funds working for them. Maybe we are dividing our legitimate profits with our customers, but we are building up our business on these lines. That is why we are opening accounts with the most conservative and careful men and women in the community.

Our bank is a complete one, built to fit this community, organized to give the people the best banking service possible. It is owned by no clique, caters to no class, seeks only the legitimate banking business of honest men and women. Its officers are bankers and bankers only, giving the bank their entire attention except that given their farming interests.

We want your account even if it is small—of course we like large accounts—but we especially want the small accounts and want them to grow with us. We want the accounts of those who want to keep their funds at work.

Our Trust Department is a new thing in this community. Its advantages and usefulness are not generally understood. Trust companies are the highest developed modern means of handling many business affairs, especially estate matters. The trust department of our bank is entirely separate and distinct from the bank proper. It is at your service. Even if you are a depositor at another bank you are invited to consult us about any business it is capable of handling.

GOV. DUNNE ISSUES STATEMENT

Steamer's Waves Injure Levee.
Reports that the levee at Meredosia, on the Illinois river, had broken, were received by Adjutant General Dickson. Food for 340 homeless people was the request from Naples, also on the Illinois river. Later in the day the governor was appealed to by residents of Naples to have the steamer Bald Eagle discontinue plying up and down the river for the reason that swells caused by the boat were increasing the damage to the levees which are nearly submerged.

Ten thousand sacks were rushed to Mounds, upon request of the sheriff and mayor at that point.

Water Flows Over Levee.
During the afternoon a message was received by Dickson from Colonel Lang at Mt. Vernon, Ind. With the mayor of Shawneetown, Col. Lang made the trip of nearly thirty miles to Mt. Vernon in a launch to secure provisions for 800 residents of Shawneetown who are marooned on the hills back of the town. Colonel Lang stated the river was at a stage of 58 feet, water flowing over the top of the levee to a depth of a foot.

A message from Assistant Adjutant General Shand from Norris City declared the entire city of Shawneetown had been washed away, the high wind creating waves which swept solid foundations into the river.

A message from Major Logan, U. S. A., stationed at Louisville, Ky., was received by General Dickson, thanking the state of Illinois for co-operating with the federal government in the relief work along the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, and offering every means of assistance within the power of the government in caring for the flood sufferers.

Refugees Camp in Colonies.
Shawneetown, Ill., April 3.—With the work of preventing further flood damage practically abandoned Shawneetown today turned itself toward seeking relief for the thousand refugees camped in canvas colonies behind the town or scattered among country friends in the hills. Provisions have been running short since the town has been cut off from the outside world and today the situation became very grave. Expected relief from state and other sources had not arrived despite repeated appeals. When Captain Taylor, representing the United States army relief work, and J. A. Whalenmeyer, state deputy inspector of weight and measures, arrived today and learned of the threatened famine they immediately headed up stream in quest of supplies.

Colonel Lang representing Governor Dunne had already gone up stream on a similar mission. He started for Mount Vernon, Ind., to see if they could not be induced to come to the aid of the stricken people of Shawneetown.

Word has been received that the government ordered sent here rations from Louisville.

Unless provisions are received to-night or tomorrow, many refugees will suffer extremely.

The river continued to rise today and by nightfall was near the 59.5 mark, three feet and one inch over the high mark of the 1884 flood.

Ohio River Gone Mad.

The Ohio river this morning was a river gone mad. A 25 or 30 mile gale sweeping straight upstream, churned the water in swells and billows that approached ocean proportions. Most small craft kept behind the levees, but a fifteen foot motor that breasted the ten miles of rolling, foaming water from De-Koven, Ky., was tossed about like a rubber ball.

The Ohio sweeps through the great gap in the northern levee with tremendous velocity and may form a new channel straight through the town.

Scattering reports of great destruction and suffering caused by high waters in neighboring towns are received here. Fifteen hundred persons are quartered at the Uniontown, Ky., fair grounds, many of them glad to obtain accommodations in the horse sheds.

Caseville, Ky., three miles south was wiped off the map. The town hall, all the churches and all frame buildings were carried down the Ohio. Two hundred people fled to the hills. De-Koven, Ky., ten miles south, and normally two miles and a half from the river, is marooned, except for boat communication.

CONDITIONS ALONG ILLINOIS RIVER

raise was noticed, and it is thought that the water flowing into this new territory kept the river from raising.

Co. B on McGhee Levee.
Both Co. B from this city and Co. F from Quincy, I. N. G., are stationed across the river from Meredosia on the McGhee levee. Altogether there are one hundred and fifty men working to keep this levee from giving way to the pressure of the waters. The water Thursday night stood eighteen inches from the top of the levee and it was stated by authorities that the maximum raise that the levee would stand is twelve inches.

In speaking of the conditions of this district Thursday night Mayor Berger of Meredosia said, that as it would probably take until this morning for the territory within the Meredosia Levee and Drainage and Levee district to fill, the levee across the river would be practically safe until this morning at least. He said that the greatest danger was from a high wind which would cause the waves to easily wash over the top of the levee and cause its destruction. Mr. Berger stated that the river now lacks about 10 inches of being as high as the record of 1884.

The McGhee district, which comprises some 25,000 acres, is practically deserted, and those people who have not gone to higher ground, have made preparations to move at a moment's notice. All the stock has been removed and practically all the damage in this territory, should the levee break, would be the same as that in the district across the river, the damage to the crops.

Comb's Levee Out At Beardstown.
At noon Thursday the levee protecting the Comb's addition to the city of Beardstown broke and is flooding this part of the town. The break occurred at a point in a corn field, near a hedge fence, this place being inaccessible for a team and all hope of saving it was abandoned.

Providing no other breaks occur it will take about forty-eight hours to fill this section and about sixty houses will be submerged. As soon as the break occurred the people living in the addition were notified and they made a hasty retreat to high ground, where they stretched forty tents. When the addition is filled the water will be seven feet deep in the deepest places. As this is all back water coming into this place there is no danger from the current.

Levee Across River Holding.
Up to 9 o'clock Thursday morning the river at Beardstown rose 3 inches in twenty-four hours, but after that time very little raise was noticeable. The levee across the river, that protecting the Christies & Lowe lands is still holding out and the water is from two and one half to three feet from the top. Waves were causing considerable damage to the levee Thursday but the men have not yet given up hope of saving it and are working incessantly with sand.

Several streets in Beardstown were covered with water Thursday, particularly Fourth street, which in some places was on a level with the curbing. The streets around the Goodell Hotel, which is within a block of the square, are covered with water this being caused by back water from the sewers and from rains of Wednesday night and Thursday, which could not drain off.

Railroad Trains Moving.
Railroad traffic is still being carried on and all of the roads have a large number of men at work protecting the right of ways. A weak spot was found in the Burlington tracks across the river from Beardstown Thursday morning and five cars of sand were sent over to repair the damage, which it is thought can be done before the tracks are washed out. The water in a great many places was on a level with the rails of the Baltimore & Ohio road, but trains were still moving, although on a slower schedule.

The water is very close to the bottom of the wagon bridge across the river and a man was nearly drowned in an attempt to take a row boat under the bridge. Before the boat could be gotten through the man was compelled to lie flat in the bottom of the craft.

The Sagamore levee, north of Beardstown broke several days ago and a territory comprising five sections of land in that district is inundated.

Chief of Police Pilger of Beardstown said Thursday night that he expected the river would raise five inches before the water began to recede. The highwater mark of 1884 is 22.6 feet and the stage Thursday night was 21.8 ft.

C. P. Bridge in Danger.

Flood waters have washed a great deal of the dirt supporting the approach to the Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis railroad company's trestle spanning Big Sandy creek, north of the city. A man was watching the bridge and the passenger train returning to the city Thursday night was stopped on account of the bridge. It was probably ten minutes before the train was pulled across the trestle and a freight train that was following the passenger was held on the other side of the structure.

A. B. Dunlap at Meredosia.
A. B. Dunlap of this city was among the Jacksonville men at Meredosia. Mr. Dunlap has land in the McGhee levee district and went over to Meredosia Monday night. He has moved all of his stock out of the threatened district and the family that has been residing on the place has moved to this city.

Walked on Beardstown Levee.
Herman Smith, a traveling man, returned to this city Thursday from Beardstown, coming home via Virginia on the B. & O. and C. & P. & St. L. Mr. Smith said that he walked out on the sand bag on top of the levee around the Comb's addition at that place, saw the break in the levee and watched the people pitching their tents. He said that the water is up to the railroad tracks in a number of places and that in crossing the street to go to the depot he got in water up to his shoes in places.

CAIRO PEOPLE HAVE CONFIDENCE IN LEVEE

So interested are the property owners in saving the city that some of them have sent for their sons who are in college or working in other cities to come home and fight the floods. Three of these Brashear Mattingly, attending the University of Illinois and Comfort Butler and Miles Schup who have been in St. Louis arrived here tonight on a steamboat.

Lieut. S. B. Buckner, U. S. A., has ordered constructed fifty flat boats to be placed throughout low sections of the city in case of emergency. They will be ready tomorrow.

Food for Ten Days More.
The commissary department of the city, looking out for food for the laborers and needy families reported tonight that there were supplies on hand for ten days if no more are brought in.

Four thousand liberal rations are dealt out daily.

The rain tonight made conditions decidedly uncomfortable for the soldiers who were compelled to prepare their "super mess" on a large barge where their equipment is pitched. They use no tents, the wharf being used as a dormitory.

Work along the levee front tonight was impossible because of the down-pour through there was a large supply of sacks waiting to be placed. Adjutant General Frank S. Dickson of Illinois wired from Springfield to Col. S. O. Tripp that he was leaving for St. Louis to charter the Steamer Illinois for the purpose of loading it with supplies for Cairo. He expects to arrive here with the boat Saturday or Sunday.

The Peoria Herald finds comfort in the statement that the high water in that section is "turning hundreds of acres of $250 corn land into ideal rice fields."

A Harvard professor wants a law prohibiting men from marrying until they can earn at least $5 a day. Arguments against marriage are too numerous already, without placing an absolute barrier in the way.

The Quincy Whig man is worried by the high water there. He grows: "If you live by the rivers you are washed away. If you live on the prairies you are blown away. If you take refuge in the mountains, there are the avalanches."

Interest on $60,000 each year at 5 per cent is $3,000. Just as long as that money is idle, each year it will add $3,000 to the cost of the new school building. The workmen of Jacksonville as well as the capitalists will be the loser by just that much each year that the proposed building is delayed. It is a good business. For the parties holding the money, yes, but for the children who lose the increased advantages, for the workman who loses in employment, for the taxpayer who has already paid up the money, no. But it does please a very limited number of calamity howlers who oppose every improvement proposed. These men, some of them, are conscientious, but they sure need a few lessons in that religion that teaches a brighter, happier view of affairs of this world.

There seems a great diversity of opinion in this section as to who is to distribute the federal patronage in Illinois under the present Democratic administration. Secretary Bryan has telegraphed Governor Dunne congratulations on the success of his policy so far. He Inter-Ocean jumps to the conclusion that Bryan, Dunne and Lewis will be the bosses. The Tribune takes the opposite view, claiming that President Wilson, knowing that Bryan has a private feud to settle. The president is under some obligation to the Sullivan faction for their course at Baltimore in his behalf. The throwing of Judge Thompson out of the back door at that convention has probably never been brought to the attention of the president, but it shows what the Sullivanites would do to the Bryanites if they get the opportunity. Illinois office seekers are between the "devil and the deep sea" truly. They don't know just which faction is safest to tie up with. Meantime a lot of Republicans are enjoying the fat salaries.

There are many men among the membership in the Jacksonville Board of Commerce who do not fully realize the importance of their membership in that body. They seem to think that the board is made up of the officers of the organization, and that these officers and heads of different departments are to assume all responsibility. Our board is doing a good work, but it needs the support and encouragement of every member. The officers need their advice and encouragement as to the way our city can be helped, by which enterprise may be encouraged. He stands on an equality with every other member of the organization, their failure is his failure. If you have ideas that would be of advantage it is your duty, Mr. Member, to seek the president, or secretary or chairman of the branch in which you are most interested, and confer with him. It may be a winner, may lead to advancement of the interests of the entire body and of the city. Do not lose sight of the fact that you are a member and in part responsible for the success or failure of the organization.

A meeting of importance to the interests of our city was that of the Boosters' club the other night. Not that any definite action was taken by them on the matter under discussion, (the light plant) but that the young men, many of them first voters, are becoming interested in municipal affairs. They are the life of the city. It is well, indeed, when they manifest an intention to take part in a man's share in boosting the city. And they can only do that intelligently after investigating. It is not a question, just now, of politics—only a question of how best to further the interests of the city in which they live. Their action in deciding to visit the present electric light plant, to see for themselves the conditions there, to study the specifications and plans of the proposed improvement is commendable. It is not the disposition of the young to stand back, predicting disaster, at every turn. They are organized to "boost," not blindly, but intelligently, and this action is in line with their work. Their interest today is greater in the welfare and improvement of the city than many of the heaviest tax payers. This is to be the home of most of them for many years, provided the town improves and expands in a way to make room for them. It is with no disrespect to the older citizen, the man who has almost finished his fight, and now lives in comfort and pays his taxes more or less cheerfully, that we say the young man's interest is greater. He has his fight to make and must have a field to make it successfully. We hope that at the next meeting of the club every member will be present, after taking advantage of the invitation of Mr. Brennan "to visit and inspect the light plant." Some one will be on hand, day or night, to show visitors through and explain what is needed. Then they can intelligently discuss the matter, and decide whether it is best to "boost" for the improvement. The older men, the voter, young or old, should do likewise.

NOT NEW.

The London correspondent of the New York Sun says that ragtime, instead of being a new thing in music, says Ernest Neumann, is a device which has been made use of by artists from time immemorial.

The work of classical composers is full of examples. The passage, "How vain is man," in Handel's "Judas Maccabeus," is as good ragtime as much of the music that goes by that name.

Similar effects introduced in other instances, says Mr. Neumann, include: Schumann's "Promenade," "Piu Strutto," "Von Schlaraffenland," Beethoven's Pianoforte Sonata, op. 28 (first movement), Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsodies, Brahms' Hungarian Dances, Tchaikovsky's Fourth and Fifth Symphonies.

Gounod's "Faust Waltz," Ardit's "Il Bacio." The whole device of ragtime is so common that there are names for it to be found in all the old dictionaries of music. "Tempo rubato" (in its original, not its modern sense), "tempo d'libro agio," "tempo della confusione"—all these are names for what is now known as ragtime.

THE REFERENDUM.

Commissioner Becker, of Decatur, in referring to a recent referendum vote on a bond issue in that city, declares the votes cast shows the system worthless. The question submitted was an important one, yet not one-third of the voters responded. Becker says:

"There was a lack of interest. Fifty dollars, handled by a man who knew anything about politics, could have been scattered in Decatur and the bond issue beaten. And yet some persons want that sort of plan for the approval of supreme court decisions and the general approval of the laws. That sort of thing is enough to disgust a man."

Mr. Becker was prompted by a curiosity to know how many of the persons who voted on the important questions had studied and really knew why they voted, and if they voted on the merits of the proposition. He found that some voted against the two questions on grounds wholly trivial and did not take the real merits of the case into consideration. His conclusion is that as a scheme for enlisting all the people in matters of public concern, the referendum is not a success. It gives an opportunity for all, but they permit others to vote for them and thus they are represented by others about as truly as if the question at issue had been settled without a referendum.

EMERGENCY MEN.

We are all thankful that this is a time of peace in this country, that there is neither war or rumors of war at the present. These are prosperous times, population increasing and the value of property greatly enhanced over that of only a few years ago. That very prosperity has brought with it increased value to low lands, the development of drainage districts has brought with it a great increase in the number of people living along the Illinois and other rivers, on lands formerly given up as swamps, overflow lands, rich as the world knows. The high cost of living has brought about their reclamation, and there is now a great population, not adequately protected, in all these levee districts.

The great need in flood times is men, men capable of enduring physical hardships, in saving levees and property and the lives of families endangered. It is a fight, not against sword and bullet, but against a more insidious foe.

This is the time when a trained military body of men, like our national guard, show their efficiency. When the call came for our own company, they were as prompt in their response as if it had been a call to war. There are many dangers to be encountered from the floods and breaking of levees, exposure, malaria, and diseases. They are entitled to honor and praise for their readiness to meet the emergency, to do their full duty in saving life and protecting property. The national guard has been of the very greatest service in the Cairo and Shawneetown region. They are a credit to our great state, and can do a service that could be accomplished in no other way.

They deserve praise and honor. The work of saving women and children in the endangered sections is one that appeals to brave men. Captain Owen's company should be accorded all honor.

Our national guard is composed of men ready for any emergency—whether fighting to save life, or fighting the foes of their country. To them all honor.

FAMILY WILL LEAVE CITY.

The family of Rev. Don Nichols, who has been residents of Jacksonville for the past five years, is soon to leave the city. Rev. Mr. Nichols has accepted the position of financial secretary of Wesleyan college, a Methodist school located at Buchanan, West Virginia, and the family will live there. Rev. Mr. Nichols has been helping the Wesleyan college for some time. Mrs. Nichols is here now seeing about the household goods and she expects to get away some time next week.

QUICK RELIEF FOR RHEUMATISM.

George W. Koon, Lawton, Mich., says: "Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism has given my wife wonderful benefit for rheumatism. She could not lift hand or foot, had to be lifted for two months. She began to use of the remedy and improved rapidly. On Monday she got up, dressed herself and walked out for breakfast." Sold by L. P. Allcott, druggist.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT.

Definite advancement in the cause of road improvement was made when the United States' office of public roads, after spending several years in gathering statistics here and abroad, announced that the average cost of marketing farm products over the roads of this country is 23 cents per ton per mile, as against 8 cents per ton per mile in those European countries where the roads have been improved. The further report that the average haul here and abroad is about the same, nine and four-tenths miles, brings the matter home to every citizen of a state, and makes possible the computation of local wastefulness.

Thirty-three and one-third bushels of potatoes or wheat make a ton. According to the official figures, therefore, the difference between the cost of marketing that amount of produce would amount to 15 cents per ton per mile, or $1.41 for the average distance. This amounts to a trifle over 4 cents a bushel on wheat and potatoes, and relative amounts on other products.

Without improved roads this money is wasted; sunk in the mud. With good roads this money is saved and becomes distributed in the regular channels of commerce, adding to the material wealth of the community, and the state, and the nation.

In practically every instance where a good road has been constructed through a section of country an immediate improvement has taken place all along the line. Houses, barns and out-buildings have been fixed up and painted; rickety and unsightly fences have given place to attractive and well kept ones; rusty and dilapidated farming implements have been removed from the sight of the highway; trees have been trimmed, lawns kept mowed, and the landscape generally brightened up to keep pace with the spirit of improvement. Schools have improved because more regular attendance became possible. Crops have increased because of more careful farming and because of the accessibility of proper fertilizers. Returns have improved because of the possibility of marketing products when prices were favorable instead of only when roads were passable.

All these improvements contribute to general commercial progress. Whatever adds to the prosperity of the predominating class in any community adds to the prosperity of the community as a whole, and to each of its varied interests; and whatever enhances the welfare of communities, and increases their material wealth, enhances in similar ratio the welfare and prosperity of the state and the nation.

The logical conclusion is plain. When the local section, the larger community, and the state as a whole, all profit by the establishment of a public improvement, all should cooperate in the payment for that improvement. The larger and more complete comprehension of the subject includes the federal government as a party to the general plan of cooperation.

In good road construction, cooperation necessarily takes the form of state aid, the state, county and township each contributing its quota of the amount as may be provided by law. Within the last twenty-one years thirty-four of the forty-eight states of the union have adopted this plan in different variations, and the favorable results, in every case, have been tangible and reducible to figures.

When one not accustomed to improved highways travels over the good roads of another state, and notes the attractive farm houses and well kept farms, and the prosperous and up to date villages and cities, he is extremely likely to mistake the effect for the cause. More than one such has been heard to remark that "a prosperous community like this can build any kind of a road it wants," etc. There was the mistake. It was the improved roads which made the prosperity possible. Before the roads were built, such communities were suffering from the same disadvantages of over work and under profit that other sections which are without good roads are now experiencing. It was the improvement of the roads which came first, and made the condition of prosperity possible.

The opening of improved roads, which state aid makes possible, permits the establishment of new industries; the utilization of natural resources; and the consequent creation of new markets, both for merchandise and farm products. And good roads, in combination with the telephone, the rural mail carrier and the motor delivery system, not only produces rural and therefore general prosperity, but also eliminates that isolation which, from time immemorial, on account of poor roads, has been the chief objection to rural existence.

FOUR TO DIE ON SAME GALLOWS.

Montgomery, Ala., April 3.—Four men will be hanged from the same scaffold here tomorrow unless Governor O'Neal should grant an eleventh hour stay of sentence, which is not expected. Two of the condemned men are white. This will be the first time since the war that a white man has been executed in Montgomery county.

Walter Jones and Arnold Gilmer are the two white men slated to pay the extreme penalty. Jones was convicted of having killed Sloan Rowan in a passenger coach of a train just ready to pull out of the station here on July 17, 1912. Rowan was on his way to Benton to testify before the grand jury in an arson case in which Jones was the principal. Arnold Gilmer, while under the influence of liquor, shot and killed Mrs. Lucille Tippetts. He had visited the house with the intention of killing her husband and could give no reason for shooting the woman in the absence of Tippetts.

John Adams, a negro, killed a policeman in the fall of 1910 when the officer called at the house to arrest him for a minor offense. A citizen came to the aid of the policeman and wounded Adams severely. His life was despaired for weeks. When it was seen that he would recover several attempts were made to lynch him. The militia was called out to guard the jail and succeeded in dispersing the mobs. Coleman German, the second negro condemned to death, was convicted of the murder of a negro woman.

FACTS ABOUT PEOPLE IN CENSUS BULLETIN

COMPOSITION AND CHARACTER OF POPULATION OUTLINED.

Statistics Just Made Public Tell of Nativity and Citizenship of Illinoisans—Interesting Facts About Jacksonville and Morgan County.

The U. S. census bureau has just issued a bulletin giving some very interesting and valuable information about Illinois. The purpose of the bulletin and the facts and figures given for Jacksonville and Morgan county are printed herewith.

The first population bulletin for Illinois gave the number of inhabitants by counties and minor civil divisions, the decennial increase and the density of population, and the proportions urban and rural. The bulletin just issued deals with the composition and characteristics of the population. The two bulletins cover all the principal topics of the population census except occupations and ownership of homes.

Description of the Tables.
The greater part of this second bulletin consists of five general tables which present statistics of color, nativity, parentage, sex, citizenship, illiteracy, school attendance, and dwellings and families, as follows: Table I. for the state and counties; table II. for cities of more than 25,000 inhabitants; table III. for places of 10,000 to 25,000; table IV. for places of 2,500 to 10,000; and table V. for wards of cities of more than 50,000.

Of account of the wide differences in characteristics among the different classes of the population, the statistics on each subject are shown according to race, and for the whites according to nativity and parentage. Classification according to nativity and parentage is scarcely necessary for the other races, since nearly all negroes and Indians are native born or of native parentage, and nearly all Chinese and Japanese either foreign born or of foreign parentage.

Since marked differences often exist between urban and rural communities with respect to the composition and characteristics of the population, the two classes are distinguished in connection with several of the subjects. Urban population, as defined by the bureau of the census, includes that of all incorporated places of 2,500 inhabitants or more, the remainder being classified as rural.

The census inquiry as to school attendance was merely as to whether the person enumerated had attended any kind of school at any time between September 1, 1909, and the date of enumeration, April 15, 1910. The census bureau classifies as illiterate any person 10 years of age or over who is unable to write, regardless of ability to read.

Color and Nativity.
Of the total population of Illinois, 2,600,555, or 46.1 per cent, are native whites of native parentage; 1,723,847, or 30.6 per cent, are native whites of foreign or mixed parentage; 1,202,560, or 21.3 per cent, are foreign-born whites; and 109,049, or 1.9 per cent, are negroes. The corresponding percentages in 1900 were 47.1, 31.1, 20 and 1.8, respectively, only slight changes in the composition of the population having taken place during the decade. In most of the 102 counties, the proportion of foreign-born whites is small being less than 5 per cent in only 6. More than two-thirds of the foreign-born whites are in Cook county, in which both this class and the native whites of foreign or mixed parentage constitute a larger proportion of the total population than in any other county (35 and 41.5 per cent respectively).

Sex.
In the total population of the state there are 2,911,674 males and 2,726,917 females, or 104.8 males to 100 females. In 1900 the ratio was 105.3 to 100. Among native whites the ratio is 104.5 to 100, and among foreign-born whites 127.3 to 100. In the urban population there are 104.9 males to 100 females, and in the rural, 109.9.

State of Birth.
Of the total native population—that is, population born in the United States—76.8 per cent were born in Illinois and 23.2 per cent outside the state; of the native white population, 22.1 per cent were born outside the state, and of the native negro, 66.8 per cent. Persons born outside the state constitute a much larger proportion of native population in urban than in rural communities.

Voting and Militia Ages.
The total number of males 21 years of age and over is 1,743,182, representing 30.9 per cent of the population. Of such males, 39.5 per cent are native whites of native parentage, 23.4 per cent native whites of foreign or mixed parentage, 34.7 per cent foreign-born whites, and 2.3 per cent negroes. Of the 604,524 foreign-born white males of voting age, 317,339, or 52.5 per cent, are naturalized. Males of militia age—18 to 44—number 1,330,556.

Illiteracy.
There are 168,294 illiterates in the state, representing 3.7 per cent of the total population 10 years of age and over, as compared with 4.2 per cent in 1900. The percentage of illiteracy is 1.3 among native whites, 10.1 among foreign-born whites, and 10.5 among negroes.

For all classes combined, the percentage of illiterates is 4.1 in urban communities and 3.2 in rural. For each class separately, however, except the foreign-born whites, the percentage is higher in the rural population than in the urban.

For persons from 10 to 20 years of age, inclusive, whose illiteracy depends largely upon present school facilities and school attendance, the percentage of illiteracy is 1.1.

Dwellings and Families.
The total number of dwellings in Illinois is 1,006,848, and the total number of families 1,264,717, there being 125.6 families to each 100 dwellings. The average number of persons per dwelling is 5.6, and the average number per family, 4.5.

UTILITY CORPORATIONS SHOW CONSTANTLY INCREASING PROFITS

Popular Electricity Magazine Presents Some Interesting Figures—Shows Public Service Concerns Make Money Even During Panics.

The Popular Electricity magazine in a recent issue called attention to the manner in which independent public utility corporations have gone ahead from year to year increasing their earnings without regard to the financial depressions which have embarrassed other businesses.

Along with the article is a chart which indicates by lines and figures the manner in which the business and earnings of the concerns have developed. It is not possible to reproduce the chart here but the figures which tell the story are of general interest. The magazine article says:

"The chart shown herewith indicates the independence of electrical public utility corporations in periods of financial and business depressions, as compared with steam railways for example. The chart shows that, starting from 100 per cent in 1902 steam railway gross earnings held a slight upward trend until 1905; but in 1905 gross earnings rose to about 134. The best point was reached in 1907 when 148 per cent was reached. The panic of that year, however, quickly sent it down again. In the period since 1907 until 1911 there was a slight advance. Net earnings in the same periods did worse, dropping to seventeen points lower in the panic.

"Now contrast this with the movement of electric light and power companies. In this nine-year period they made the best net and gross earnings showing of all, advancing very rapidly without interruption during the periods of depression to the high point of 328 per cent for net earnings and 296 per cent for gross at the beginning of the year 1911.

"Electric railways showed a gross earnings advance from 100 in 1902 to 156 at the end of the panic year of 1907. The panic in this case merely meant a slower movement upward from that time on to 1910, after which the advance was very rapid.

"And in connection with this the following table prices for some of the leading public utility shares during 1912 is most remarkable. The table gives the prices bid and asked at the opening of the year, the high and low price for the year, and the prices paid and asked at the end of 1912:

"It may be noted also that the chart plotted on a basis of percentage of earnings for the years 1902 to 1910, covers two periods of financial depression, but in spite of this fact earnings of electric light and power companies have increased over 200 per cent, earnings of gas companies over 100 per cent and earnings of electric railways over 80 per cent in the decade. In not a single year, the chart shows, was there any period of decreased earnings for these public utility companies."

City Commissioner Brennan who has for years been a constant reader of the "Popular Electricity" said yesterday that he had been very much interested in these figures, and naturally could not help making some local application.

Mr. Brennan said that he is strong for lower rates from the Jacksonville Light Co., and would be opposed to any franchise not providing for lower rates.

WINCHESTER. ILLINOIS BUTTER MAKERS HELD CONFERENCE IN CITY

Representatives of Various Creameries Talked Over Affairs of Mutual Interest—Meetings Are Held Monthly.

The Central Illinois Creamery Men's club held a monthly meeting here Thursday and enjoyed a dinner at the Dunlap hotel. There are thirty members of this club and practically all of them were in the city for this monthly conference. E. E. Crabtree of Jacksonville is the president of the club, E. W. Sudendorf is the vice-president and E. A. Jorgensen of Champaign secretary-treasurer. His meeting will be held in Champaign.

The club which has been organized but a few months is really a subsidiary organization of the Illinois Butter Manufacturers Improvement association which includes forty creameries. The club at the monthly sessions talks over matters which are of general interest to all the creameries and the idea is to keep a proper understanding among the butter makers and to improve the product of creameries as much as possible. The sessions are of only a semi-private nature as a deputy state pure food commissioner is usually present.

Among the cities which have membership in the manufacturers association are Camp Point, Galesburg, Peoria, Clinton, Bloomington, Griggsville, Decatur, Astoria, Watseka, Stewardson, Champaign, Lincoln, Springfield, Jacksonville, Danville and Chicago.

THE TEMPERATURES.
The temperatures for Thursday, according to G. H. Hall, weather observer at Alexander, were: maximum 72, minimum 56. A rainfall of .86 inches was recorded.

"A 'Home, Sweet Home' is one, I say, wherein the Gold Dust fellows play. Their work is fun to them. They start at dawn, with some magician's art and with the sinking of the sun the last mean job of work is done.

A young man recently applied for a position with a large printing house, and not having a letter of reference, offered his bank book. It showed a regularity of entries of deposit. It was a very strong recompersistence, which finally secured for him a good position.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET.
Chicago, April 3.—Hogs—Receipts, 32,000; market weak and mostly 10c lower. Bulk of sales, sealed clearances of wheat and flour equalled 314,000 bushels.
Corn shelled, made nervous by improved shipping conditions in the east, covered freely. The upturn in prices was also helped by higher outside cash markets. Good demand from the east helped make a firm market for oats.
Provisions showed weakness at the close, though considerable buying in the early part of the session on the part of a prominent western packer had given a fair degree of strength. The lack of strength manifest after the show of firmness was caused by realizing sales.

MARKET RALLIES IN LAST HALF HOUR

LIST ADVANCES SUDDENLY WITH READING AND COPPER STOCKS LEADING.
Trading Was Dull Most of the Session—Buying of the Copper Stocks
Was Influenced by Reports of an Improving Tendency in the Metal Market.

(By Associated Press)
New York, April 3.—Until the last half hour of trading today the stock market did little. Then the list advanced suddenly, with Reading and the copper stocks in the lead. Reading was rushed up 3 1/2 points. Early in the day the market registered the effect of moderate pressure from board room traders, but declines were moderate. Lists were gradually made up and the upturn placed a number of stocks from 1 to 3 points above yesterday's closing.

Trading was dull most of the session. Although Wall street has viewed the coming revision of the tariff during recent months with a degree of indifference which has been a matter of comment, the fact that the convening of congress is now only a few days off forced itself upon traders today. Various unofficial accounts of the character of the tariff measures to be presented received attention and served as a basis for bear selling.

The chief movements of the day, prior to the spurt at the close, were among the specialties. Canning and Biscuit also were strong. Rubber,
Canadian Pacific and Chesapeake & Ohio were heavy. Buying of the copper stocks was influenced by reports of an improving tendency in the metal market. One of the large selling agencies was reported to have raised its price to 15 1/2c.

Clogged Bowels a Menace to Health

Constipation at Bottom of Most Serious Illnesses—Avoided by a Simple Remedy.

Trace the origin of the commoner ills of life and almost invariably you will find that constipation was the cause. It is not to be expected that a mass of fermented food can remain in the system beyond its time without vitiating the blood and affecting the nerves and muscles. It congests the entire body.

The result are colds, fevers, piles, headaches and nervousness with its accompanying indigestion and the sleeplessness. There is only one thing to do, and that is to remove the trouble; and when nature seems unable to do it, outside aid is necessary. You will find the best of all outside aids a remedy that many thousands are now using for this very purpose, called Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Many hundreds of letters are received by Dr. Caldwell telling of the good results obtained, and among the enthusiastic letters is one from Docia Wood of Little River Academy, North Carolina, who suffered with constipation and indigestion so badly that she could not sleep well at night and everything she ate distressed her. She writes that after her mother had given her Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin she "can now eat anything."

It has untold advantage over pills, salts and various coarse cathartics and purgatives, for while these do but temporary good, Syrup Pepsin cures permanently. The effect of its action is to train the stomach and bowel muscles to do their work naturally again, and in a short time all forms of medicine can be dispensed with. It can be bought without inconvenience at any nearby drug store for fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, the latter size being regularly bought by those who already know its value. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

PRIN. GORE AND PARENTS CONFER ABOUT ROUGH NECK DAY

Head of High School in March Letter Asks Opinion Relative to Annual "Stunt" of Students—Tardiness Greatly Decreased for March.

Principal W. A. Gore has sent out his March letter to the parents, following a custom he started the first of the year, and which is proving quite beneficial. In his letter for March the report shows that there was a great decrease in tardiness, there being twenty-seven cases in March against 144 the month previous. The principal also talks about "Rough Neck Day" and is asking the parents what they think about such a celebration. His letter reads as follows:

To the Parents: Last month we promised to discuss "Courses of Study" in this communication. At present we are in doubt as to what courses we will be able to offer next year. We are so crowded at present that we have been arranging the subjects according to the rooms and not according to the work demanded. We will have a larger enrollment next year and we fear that we cannot give some of the courses now offered. Consequently, we shall not discuss "Courses of Study" until we know how many rooms will be available. We are almost happy. We feel like standing erect and saying "I told you so." When the parents and teachers get together there is nothing they cannot do. Last month there were 144 cases of tardiness. This month there have been twenty-seven cases of tardiness. Last month 114 "D's" were given. This month only 79 "D's" were given. This improvement shows what we can do. Let us keep busy.

Rough Neck Day, according to rumor, is to be celebrated next week. This celebration consists of dressing up like hoboes, staying out of school, marching up and down the street, smoking cigarettes and otherwise furthering the aims of our educational institution. Last year this celebration caused many people to criticize the faculty. We wish to state that we believe that the high school should be maintained for educational purposes. Most of the schools of our size have twenty weeks school in each semester. The report of the North Central association demands that we have eighteen weeks school in each semester in order to be accredited with colleges. This semester we have had fifteen weeks school. We have had two days vacation. Shall we have another? We have respect for public sentiment. If you believe that "Rough Neck Day" is an honored custom we will hold it as a part of our regular work and allow the young ladies to take part. If you do not believe in the custom, what are you going to do about it? You are the parents. Several letters have been received in answer to our communication of last month. All of the letters except two were complimentary in regard to our new reports. Two of the letters, in a friendly manner, gave the reports a strong criticism. The criticism is just. Our new reports are not ideal, but they are getting results and we are very much pleased to see the parents taking so much interest in them.

Very truly yours,
W. A. Gore, Prin.

RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS ASTOUNDED

RHEUMA Acts On Kidneys, Liver and Blood the First Day—and Out Goes Uric Acid Poison.

Anybody can afford to pay 50 cents to get rid of terrible Rheumatism, Sciatica or Gout, and that's all RHEUMA costs at Coover and Shreve's who say that if it doesn't do all that is claimed for it, money back.

It's wonderful how speedily this simple remedy takes hold and how the sore muscles limber up and the swollen joints come down to normal. Make no mistake—RHEUMA costs but little, but it's the best remedy you can find to drive Rheumatic poisons from the system and bring back health to misery-racked bodies.

"I had Rheumatism for a long while, and tried many medicines, but was not cured until I used RHEUMA. I cannot praise RHEUMA too highly. My advice to those suffering from Rheumatism is to use this great remedy, as I believe it will effect a permanent cure in any case."—C. B. Lanham, Sattes, W. Va., April 27, 1912.

Mrs. Lillie Simpkins of Calhoun county is visiting at the home of her brother, W. T. Richardson, and with other relatives in the vicinity of the Point church west of the city.

His mother replies, making him a present of a pair of woolen socks which she has knitted. Tom, a little the worse for liquor loses his job on the ranch.

The next morning he receives his mother's letter and his heart is touched. He will not tell her the news, but rather writes that he has been elected sheriff and that he will soon send her a present. He has no money and to get some he steals two horses. Suspicion falls upon him and he is forced to flee, pursued by the cowboys and the sheriff. His mother visits him and the developments are interesting indeed.

HUGE GERMAN LINER LAUNCHED

Berlin, April 3.—A large party of press representatives left here today for Hamburg, the guests of the Hamburg-American line, to witness the launching of the giant vessel that is being built for the company at the shipyards of Blohm & Voss. The new vessel will be called the Europa and will be placed in service between Hamburg and New York. She is a sister ship of the Imperator, the largest ship in the world. Prince Regent Ludwig of Bavaria has accepted an invitation to be sponsor at the launching, and his son, Prince Rupprecht, will christen the vessel.

The Europa will be 950 feet long and 100 feet wide and will have a displacement of 50,000 tons. She will be equipped with internal combustion engines and two 1,500 horsepower Diesel motors, and will use oil for fuel.

There are to be eleven decks on the new liner. She will have accommodations for more than 4,000 passengers of all classes and will carry a crew of 1,000. Every feature ever devised for the convenience, comfort and entertainment of ocean travelers has been included in the plans for the new giantess of the seas. Two novel features will be a regulation tennis court on the upper deck and a swimming pool, 75 by 25 feet, on one of the lower decks.

The Europa will not be a fast boat, being built more for solid comfort than great speed. Her time across the Atlantic will be in the neighborhood of seven days.

The most powerful Marconi apparatus ever set up at sea will be installed, the unusual height of her masts making it possible to receive or transmit messages across the broad expanse of the Atlantic ocean. The Europa will always be in direct communication with either her namesake continent or America.

YE OLDEN TIME SCHOOL.

I wonder if, among the many readers of the Journal, there are not some who remember a term of school taught at Old Liberty school house, five or six miles west of Jacksonville and one-half mile south of where Markham now stands, in the spring of 1849. I do not know where the teacher came from, where he lived, nor where he went; but, although I was a small boy at the time, his methods of discipline are impressed on my mind as most peculiar and cranky.

Old Liberty was a log structure furnished with rough wooden benches, made by boring four auger holes into a slab and inserting peg legs, and desks fashioned of sixteen or eighteen inch plank hinged to each side wall. These were used for writing—one for the boys and one for the girls—and proposed in a horizontal position by unattached sticks. When not in use, the sticks were removed and the leaves dropped flat against the wall. Near the door, wooden pegs were provided on which to hang wraps and lunch baskets.

A flat cupboard not more than two feet deep was in one corner. One day the teacher shut Louise Taylor, a small girl, in that cupboard; and the doors were so thick and tight-fitting that her screams could be but faintly heard in the room. She was covered with perspiration and nearly exhausted when he released her.

An extremely large box stove occupied the middle of the floor; and the tutor once attempted to put John Letsum Killam, a chunk of a boy twelve or thirteen years old, inside the stove, in which there was no fire. John Letsum resisted, and they fought all over the room, throwing sticks of stove wood and badly disarranging the furniture, while other pupils huddled terrorized in one corner. The teacher could get John Letsum's head to the stove but did not succeed in putting him inside; so he finally added the boy all over with a ruler.

I remember of him tying Bill Taylor's thumbs together with a stout cord and hanging him by the thumbs on one of the pegs in the wall. On another occasion he grabbed Bill by the hands and had him hopping backward trying to save his bare toes from the tread of his teacher's big, hard-shod feet.

There was a chair for the teacher's use. He placed Betty Lee in that chair one day and then hung it in a slanting position on the wall. The child was in momentary danger of falling, and frightened nearly out of her wits.

Upon catching six-year-old Willie Duckworth playing with a string which he had tied to his toe, Leonard took hold of the string and walked away, causing the little fellow to hop after him as he trailed around over the schoolroom.

Another choice punishment with the teacher was to lay a boy's head upon one bench, his feet upon another and prop him up in the middle with a sharpened stick.

I do not now recall all of his freak modes of chastisement; however, if this arrests the eye of any other of the forty or fifty odd students who were under his tutelage at that time, no doubt they can amplify the record from their own memories.

There is one thing sure, we didn't think a boy had any liberty (notwithstanding the school's name) after this teacher came. We never knew what he would do next. I believe we learned rapidly during his school, but at the time I thought the only redeeming thing about him was his practice of giving pretty cards each week.

The principal studies were reading, writing, spelling and arithmetic. Spelling was the main thing. All afternoon of each Friday was spent in drills from Webster's speller. We would line up along the walls and spell up, spell down, trip spell—all with syllable pronunciation. Our writing was done with goosequill pens, and ink made from pokeberry, oak ink-balls, or copperas water.

At noon and recesses we would play sheep and wolf, rolly-hole, marbles, fox and geese; and ride on a grapevine swing in a large elm. The vine would sometimes break and give one of us a hard fall but we never failed to fix it up again. Occasionally we would run off to where Markham now is to see the cars pass.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR AGED ENGINEER.

Joel Baker Served on Local Railroads Many Years Ago.

The funeral of the late Joel Baker was held Thursday afternoon at the Reynolds undertaking establishment, where a goodly number of friends of the deceased gathered. The services were in charge of Dr. F. A. McCarthy and James B. Beekman, long a friend of the deceased, spoke a few words of appreciation. Suitable music was supplied by Mrs. T. H. Rapp, Mrs. A. C. Baldwin, J. P. Read and Dr. McCarthy. Interment was in Jacksonville cemetery and the bearers were F. J. McGhee, D. W. Osborne, S. W. Ingalls, Joseph Estaque, G. H. Dunavan and J. B. Beekman. Many beautiful flowers were laid upon the grave.

Mr. Baker was one of the oldest railroad engineers in the state, as he lived to the good old age of 80. He had been retired for a long time but in his day was one of the best known engineers in this section. Speaking of him Mr. Beekman said: "I think it was in 1860 that I first met Mr. Baker and it was when he was in charge of an engine on the old Petersburg and Tonica railroad which was built under my father's supervision. Mr. Baker was an engineer on a train engaged in the construction work and ran the first train over the road. I was one of the passengers. When M. P. Ayers was instrumental in building the Farmers' line which later became the Jacksonville & Southeastern, Mr. Baker was the first engineer he chose and the latter served long on that road. For years I knew the deceased and often rode with him on his engine and I have seen him when situations called for nerve and discretion, prove himself fully equal to the emergencies. He was a strong and brave engineer and one of the most faithful in the discharge of his duties. I wanted to speak this word today because there are many who have forgotten how large a place Joel Baker had in the railroad construction of this section and how good an engineer he was."

F. J. McGhee, one of the bearers yesterday, was also an old time friend of the deceased and yesterday spoke of the important work done by Mr. Baker in his day.

HOWARD SIMES HAS EXPERIENCE IN FLOOD.

Howard Simes, who is well known in the city and for some time was employed in the office of the C. P. & St. L. at the local car shops, was among those who had experiences in the recent flood in Columbus, O., his old home, and where he has been residing for the past year and a half. He was within 500 feet of where the levee broke which flooded the city of Columbus. As soon as he saw what had happened he secured an automobile and went post haste after his sister and family, who lived in the further end of town. The family went to work at once in moving everything up to the second story of the building. The water was 3½ feet deep on all the lower floors. Mr. Simes sat on top of the house and saw many other houses and barns float down the fast moving stream. The family had a few provisions in the house, although they got pretty hungry before the rescue boats found them. The family placed the piano on four chairs, thinking that would be out of the water, but the height was not sufficient. One man, a neighbor, after the water subsided, found four pianos on his lot.

GERMAN MILITARY AIRSHIP LANDS IN FRENCH PARADE GROUNDS

Dirigible is Immediately Seized by French Authorities and Greatest Excitement Prevails — Germans Claim They Were Lost in the Clouds.

Luneville, France, April 3.—The German military dirigible airship Zeppelin IV made a landing in the military parade grounds today and was seized by the French authorities. The incident has caused tremendous excitement notwithstanding the fact that the German officers aboard the airship explained that they had been lost in the clouds and did not know they had crossed the French frontier.

The inhabitants of the eastern frontier regions of France have been much agitated the last few weeks over reports that German dirigibles had been observed or heard nightly hovering over the forts. But the stories never were properly substantiated.

The people of Luneville therefore were considerably startled shortly before noon today when an airship appeared at a great height coming from the direction of Nancy. It was apparent the pilot was having a battle with the wind and that he was making an effort to reach the earth. Finally a safe landing was made in the parade grounds, where two squadrons of cavalry were drilling. The cavalrymen rode up and formed a cordon. They caught the ropes thrown from the dirigible and securely moored it.

They explained to General Lescot that Zeppelin was undergoing a test prior to being taken over by the war department.
